1996-97 Season Outlook

Men's Outlook

Maryland looks to continue on the vast improvement of last season, in which they swam to a 7-4 record. Returning all but two letterwinners back to the team this season, the men's squad will fight for top billing in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

After losing only one senior last season, the men's team will be bolstered by the return of almost all key performers as well as a very strong freshman class. An extremely young team, the men's squad will return only one senior, diver Brad Isbell.

The squad will look for contributions from several individuals. Juniors Ryan Prosser and Adam Fullilove will again lead the Terps in the Sprint Freestyle events. In the Distance Freestyle events, sophomores Drew Smith and Scot Budde will fight for top times.

After qualifying for the NCAA Championships last season, junior Scott Grayson returns to lead the team in the Breaststroke and Individual Medley events.

A strong recruiting class of ten incoming freshmen will make an immediate impact on the team adding depth in all events.

Women's Outlook

The women would love to improve on last season's record, although improving on 10-2 might be difficult.

Returning letterwinners for the women's squad include juniors Dawn Josephson and Regan Billingsley, who finished in first and second place last season in team scoring. Cori Hudock and Jordan McAmmond return as the squad's only seniors to provide leadership to this year's team.

The Terrapins have added depth in all events with the additions of ten newcomers including two transfer students and eight freshmen.

Schedule

The Terrapins begin their season at home against LaSalle on October 26.

The Terps then dive right into their ACC schedule as they travel to Duke on November 2. Other ACC meets this season include North Carolina, NC State and the University of Virginia. UVA should be set for a rematch after the women's squad defeated them by one point last season.

Post season meets for the Terps begin February 20, with the women's ACC Championship and on February 27, with the men's ACC championships.

The NCAA Championships begin March 20, 1997, for the women and March 27, 1997, for the men.

Jim Wenhold
Head Coach

Jim Wenhold is in his fourth season at the University of Maryland where he has continued to bring the team to new heights. Wenhold has brought back power and prestige to the program he swam for as an undergradute.

Wenhold graduated Magna Cum Laude from Maryland (B.S. Physical Education) in 1985. While serving as the student assistant coach for the Terrapin sprinters, he completed degree requirements for his master's degree in Sports Management in 1987.

Wenhold was named Maryland's Director of Aquatics and became a full-time faculty member of the Department of Kinesiology in 1988.

Coach Wenhold and his staff are strong believers in the development of people through athletics. They work hard to instill a sense of "self-accountability" in the athletes and have them apply this to every aspect of their lives, in and out of the pool.

Wenhold strives to provide an environment that promotes a unified and enthusiastic team which is committed to excellence in both the classroom and the pool.

Academic achievement among athletes is stressed and encouraged equal to athletic achievement. Wenhold's swimmers typically hold the highest GPA's among student-athletes.

Wenhold is married to former Maryland swimmer Amy Dilweg.

Teri Hayburn
Associate Head Coach

In her fourth year with the Maryland Swimming program, Teri Hayburn brings a wealth of swimming experience and enthusiasm to College Park. Hayburn assists Jim Wenhold in program operations, training, practice, and recruiting.

Hayburn was a two-time academic All-American. Her list of honors include being a twelve-time All-American (IM, Back, Fly, Sprint Free), a two-year letterwinner and a four-time Clarion University record holder. After transferring to Villanova in 1987, Hayburn earned first and second team all-conference honors in six events. A two-year letter winner at Villanova, Hayburn was team captain and held four university records. For seven consecutive semesters, Hayburn made the Dean's List and graduated with a B.A. in Psychology in 1989.

Hayburn's coaching career began at Villanova in 1989 as Assistant Swim Coach. Hayburn continued as a graduate coach at Maryland from 1990 to 1992. In 1992, she coached full-time at Maryland before moving on to become Associate Head Coach and Associate Director of Aquatics. In addition, she earned her master's degree in Education in 1992.

Teri was married last year to John Hayburn.

Jeff Kostoff
Assistant Coach

A graduate of one of the premier collegiate swimming and diving programs, Jeff Kostoff has proven his merit on all levels and on both coasts. Kostoff, a Stanford graduate has served as Assistant Coach since 1993. In swimming circles, Kostoff is widely acknowledged as one of the top distance freestylers of all time in the United States. He owns the national high school record of 4:16.00 in the 500 Free. While at Stanford University, Kostoff was a five-time individual NCAA champion in the 1650 Free and 400 IM. He holds 12 American records (500, 800, 1000, 1650-yard Free and 400 IM.) In addition, he represented the United States in both the 1984 and 1988 Olympic Games in the 400 IM.

Kostoff earned his B.A. in History from Stanford in 1987 and is currently working on his master's degree in History at Maryland. He and his wife, Nadereh, have one son, Ojan, 9.

John Wolsh
Diving Coach

John Wolsh begins his sophomore season at College Park. Wolsh has served the United States Diving organization as vice-president in charge of development and coach of education development for all Junior Olympic programs. He is a six-time U.S. Diving National Team Coach and has coached world and national champions.

A former University of Maryland Terrapin, Wolsh served as the head diving coach at American University as well as an instructor in American's Health and Fitness Department. Wolsh also coaches the nationally recognized Montgomery Dive Club. Wolsh specializes in training athletic coaches for all sports and provides consultation from his own Maryland-based business.

Academic Support

There is an insistence at the University of Maryland that student-athletes get a degree in a career field that will enhance their life after College Park. The insistence is underlined by Coach Jim Wenhold and his staff, by the athletic administration and by the Academic Support Unit of the Department of Athletics.

A successful student almost always equates to a successful athlete. The commitment to academic excellence requires discipline, dedication and motivation. These are the same characteristics needed for an athlete to excel on the field or in the pool.

Toward the goal of a successful academic experience for each student-athlete, the athletic department created the Academic Support Unit. Each ASU staff member is responsible for working with specific sports, counseling each student-athlete individually.

The department operates an ever-expanding computer room and an extensive library of the books an athlete will need through their academic career.

ASU organizes over 100 tutors from all academic disciplines. Student-athletes can receive specialized one-on-one training in any class by a qualified tutor.

The academic support unit provides a comprehensive and balanced program for all student-athletes at the University of Maryland.

The Academic Support Unit provides the following benefits to Maryland student-athletes:

Personal academic assessment
Academic advising and counseling
Priority Registration
Supervised study
Learning and study skills programs
Computer training and usage
Group and individual tutoring
Career mentoring
Summer internships

Strength and Conditioning

The physical preparation of a student-athlete to compete in swimming and diving has developed into a critical component of the overall program. Emphasis is put on physical conditioning not only to enhance performance, but also to prevent injury.

Strength coach Dwight Galt employs a program that is geared to toward maximizing athletic development. Galt's staff makes every attempt to accommodate the different training needs of each athlete.

University of Maryland student-athletes are fortunate to train in one of the premier weight training facilities in the country. The weight room complex features 7,200 square feet filled with the top equipment to meet the needs of each individual student-athlete. The facility includes an 11-ton free-weight system with an Olympic Platform, as well as state-of-the-art electrolyzed and plate loaded equipment.

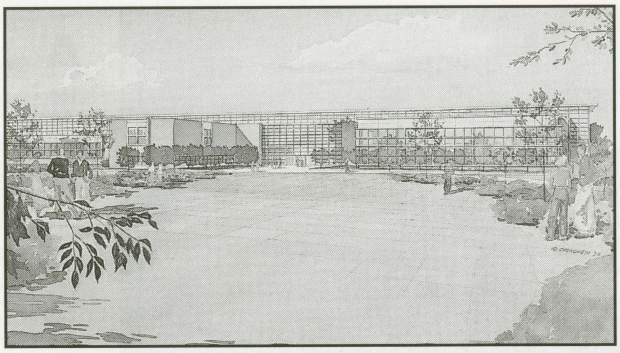
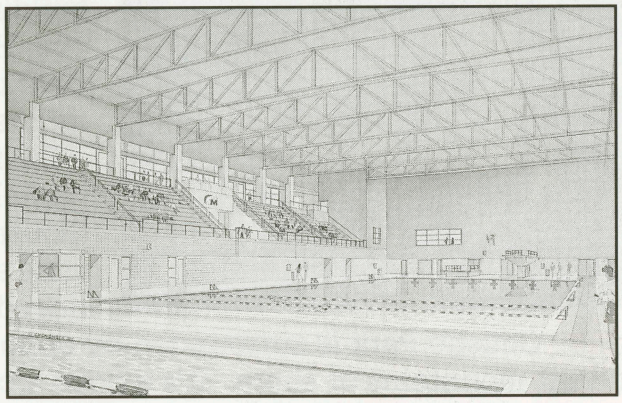
NEW STATE OF THE ART AQUATIC CENTER COMING SOON!



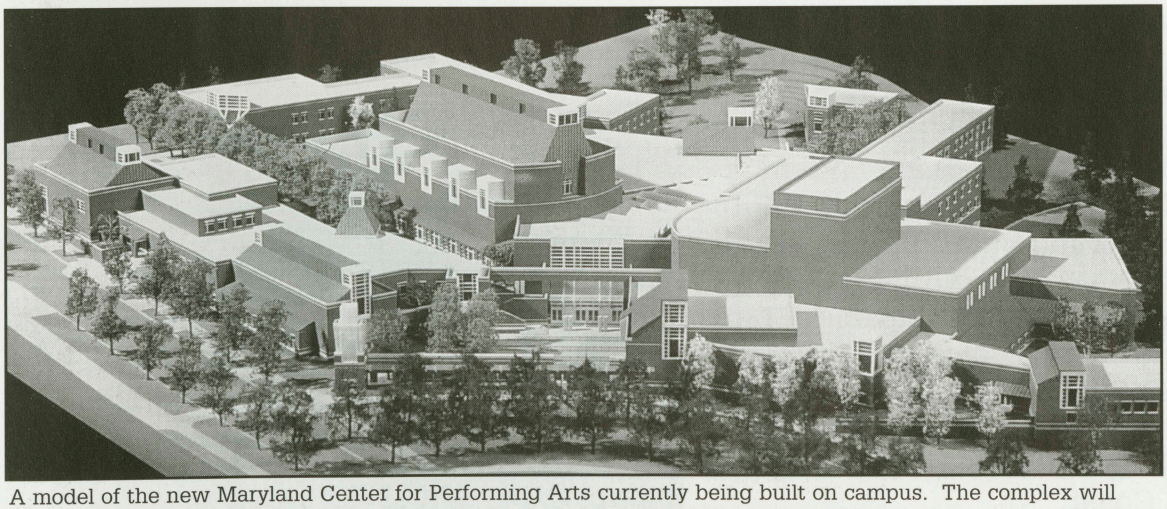
As the Maryland swimming program moves toward national prominence, the facilities follow right behind on the College Park campus. Construction has begun on a new swimming and diving facility, which will house the varsity teams well into the next century. Campus officials have assembled the best architectural and aquatic consulting talent in the nation to construct the new 200,000 square foot Campus Recreation Complex. Sasaki and Associates of Watertown, MA and Ayers Saint Gross of Baltimore, MD teamed up with Bill Rowley, consultant for the 1984 Los Angeles Olympic venue, to determine what will meet competitive swimmers needs. The varsity team will move from the current facility, Cole Field House Pool, to the new arena in the fall of 1997. Maryland makes a long-term commitment to the future of the swimming and diving program with the state-of-the-art indoor Natatorium complex, which features:

* 50 M x 25 M yard. competition pool with two movable bulkheads:
* depth 8' - 13 1/2', all deep water
* 9 foot wide competition lanes
* (2) 1 meter and (2) 3 meter concrete pedestal mounted springboards
* 10 lane 25 yard warm-up pool adjacent to competition pool
* balcony seating for more than 1000 spectators w/conces sion stands
* 16,689 square foot deck area for teams and additional spectator seating
* Men's and Women's Varsity Team Locker rooms w/ oversized lockers
* Men's and Women's Visiting Team Locker rooms
* Men's and Women's Officials Locker rooms
* Two 150 square foot saunas off pool deck
* Two multi-purpose meeting rooms off pool deck
* Outdoor Pool for outdoor training and social events
* 25 M x 25 yard pool
* Two 1 meter springboards



* 12,000 square foot weight training and cardiovascular fitness area
* 1/10 mile indoor track
* gymnasiums, dance studio, sales shop, food service

When the plans have been converted into reality, Maryland will have one of the top aquatic complexes in the Atlantic Coast Conference and in the nation. College Park will attract future conference championships and numerous national and international competitions. Elite swimmers and divers from around the country will converge to College Park, where the "build it and they will come" credo is put to use.



A model of the new Maryland Center for Performing Arts currently being built on campus. The complex will be a landmark building designed to serve the educational needs of University of Maryland students and to enrich the cultural environment of the area.

A trip across College Park reveals a university which has changed markedly in the 1990s. Almost a half-billion dollars worth of construction has recently taken place or is on-going. A campus already known for its beauty is getting better. Academically, College Park's peers are the best public universities in America.

A trip across the state of Maryland reveals deep tradition, too. Washington, D.C.'s monuments and national historic treasures are just miles away, the building housing the nation's archives is on campus. Historic sites in Baltimore have Edgar Allan Poe and Babe Ruth's names on them, and Annapolis has witnessed much of the nation's history.

Baltimore's Inner Harbor and Annapolis's waterways lead into the Chesapeake Bay, with room for thousands of sailboats. There is an ocean on the state's eastern shore; its western boundaries are ringed by the Blue Ridge and Allegheny mountains.

College Park is surrounded by opportunities in sports and the arts, by chances to visit mountains or shore. It's a good location.

* Washington, D.C. is three miles from Byrd Stadium. The National Capital's major attractions are within 10 miles. Making the trip easy is the Metro Rail System, which began connecting College Park to the rest of suburban Maryland, the District of Columbia, and Northern Virginia, in December of 1993. Campus shuttles serve the College Park station, allowing easy access to one of the country's model transportation systems.

* Baltimore is located 35 miles north of the College Park campus. Its rejuvenation as an urban center is unprecedented: The Inner Harbor, its National Aquarium and tall ships, and the near-by Orioles Park at Camden Yards, create an exciting, vibrant, holiday atmosphere in a city that boasts one of the world's great sea ports. The heart of Maryland, the Chesapeake Bay, is 20 miles from campus, and the state capital, Annapolis, is 30 miles.

* Washington and Baltimore may be reached easily from anywhere in the United States and the World. USAir, which is headquartered in the Metropolitan area, uses Baltimore/Washington International Airport as a hub. Both BWI and Dulles Airport, which is a hub for United Airlines, are international airports, capable or providing service to any continent. College Park is 10 minutes from the Amtrak Northeast Corridor Line and frequent train service along the East Coast.

THE UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND AT COLLEGE PARK

PICTURE a university so comprehensive that if offers degrees in 98 disciplines, so technologically advanced that it manages specially-designed research facilities not found on any other campus in the country and boasts a telecommunications system which serves as a model for universities worldwide. And, at the same time, it is a university concerned enough to include special housing matched to student interests and to ensure that half of all undergraduate classes have fewer than 30 students. That's a snapshot of the University of Maryland at College Park, the flagship institution of Maryland's system of higher education.

Academic Stature: One of only 30 public research universities in the prestigious 58-member Association of American Universities; among fewer than 10 percent of universities invited to join Phi Beta Kappa.

Baccalaureate Choices: Degrees offered in 98 disciplines; pre-professional programs in dental hygiene, dentistry, law, medical technology, medicine, nursing, optometry, osteopathic medicine, pharmacy, physical therapy and pediatric medicine.

Dramatic Moments: Find them in the 1,350 seat Tawes Theater, the stage for major theatrical productions and special events.

Faculty Facts: Full-time, 1,998; part-time 544; student/faculty ratio, 14/1.

Getting There: The MARC train offers public transportation from College Park to Baltimore's Camden Station, next to Orioles Park at Camden Yards and near the Inner Harbor. The highly efficient Metro system puts the Suburban Maryland, District of Columbia and Northern Virginia areas a rapid transit system ride away from College Park.

Ideas: More than 100 active patent disclosures by university inventors are managed by the Office of Technology Liaison.

Journalist's Pick: The College of Journalism was selected as one of two sites in the U.S. for the Hubert H. Humphrey Fellowship Program, and named one of the nations' top communications programs by the Gannett Center for Media Studies.

Library Holdings: Largest academic research library system in Washington metropolitan area. There are 2.8 million volumes in libraries and 4.6 million items on microfilm.

Nationally Noted: A dozen academic departments and programs at College Park are placed in top 10 among U.S. public universities by the National Academy of Sciences.

Neighbors: Campus neighbors include the Library of Congress, the Smithsonian Institutions, the National Institutes of Health, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), the National Science Foundation and the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Center. On campus is National Archives II.

U.S. News and World Report Finds: The Department of Computer Science ranks 12th in the nation, beating three Ivy League schools, and the Department of Physics is 13th best, ahead of UCLA and Pennsylvania among others. The Public Relations Graduate Program is the #1 program in the country. The College of Business and Management is considered 14th in student selectivity.

Value Added: College Park is included in the Guide to 101 of the Best Values in Colleges and Universities, published annually by the Center for College Enrollment Studies.

Maryland in statistics compiled by the National Research Council (NRC) ranked 18 of the graduate programs as "strong" or "excellent".

Maryland according to the NRC ranked among the 10 best public universities in Computer Science, Physics, Mathematics, Electrical Engineering, Economics and Oceanography.

Maryland's College of Journalism was ranked by the Gannett Foundation as one of 11 exemplary programs nationally.
